With 12 Great Hosts to Help You Network

Join our MetroActive hosts and members for an evening towards overcoming your personal and business challenges. Take advantage of individual business introductions, socializing, and networking. Enjoy the company of a diversified group of individuals with common interest of networking and overcoming challenges in their work, business or personal life.

Add gusto to your networking activities in a social environment which combines the atmosphere of business success with personal development and relationship building.

The evening will begin by focusing on business networking with the assistance of MetroActive hosts who will help make introductions. Partly through the evening Baldo Minaudo will provide a 5 minute introductory experience to help expand your network. Then the hosting team members will be briefly introduced to all the guests.

Later in the evening, you can relax to the background music and atmosphere as you continue to build your new relationships with like-minded and like-spirited professionals.

This is a great opportunity to touch base with acquaintances and to make new friends (don't forget your business cards). So feel free to bring along your friends and colleagues interested in advancing their career, growing their business, building their network or making new friends.

Reserve your admission today. MetroActive's events are usually sold out and we often have to turn away dozens of individuals who didn't buy tickets far enough in advance. Don't delay!
